Closer To Equal
Job Opportunity

It's ironic that a nation that likes to consider itself the land of opportunity for all should need any legislation to prevent bigoted discrimination in the matter of employment.

However, there was in Congress such strong opposition to this kind of legislation that a compromise had to be made when the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) was created by the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The commission was shorn of any powers of enforcement. It was authorized to receive complaints about job discrimination, but if persuasion failed to move the discriminator, the commission could do nothing about it.

Now the Senate has passed (by a 73-to-16 vote) a bill to give the EEOC more initiative. This, and a similar bill already passed by the House, would enable EEOC to ask federal courts to order employers or unions to stop discriminating.

The interesting point about the Senate action is that it was preceded by five weeks of filibuster by a handful of Southern senators. So rarely does the Senate choose to cut off debate (it takes a two-thirds vote) that the event is always noteworthy. This time the cloture vote was 73 to 21, after which the Senate went on to pass the bill.

The bill itself is a compromise, since the liberal wing had wanted to give the EEOC authority to issue its own cease-and-desist orders; but with that proviso the bill couldn't muster the two-thirds majority needed to cut off debate. The hopeful point of all this is that a healthy Senate majority has moved substantially in the last six years toward full acceptance of equal job opportunity.—Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal

Baxter Co. Stamp Office

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark. (AP) — The opening of a food stamp office today in Baxter County marked the completion of a program to locate an office in each of the state's 75 counties.

The Baxter County office is located in the courthouse basement.

Arkansas is the first state in the Southwest Region of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to have full participation in each county.

Pay Board Report Lends Support to Dock Raises

WASHINGTON (AP) — A confidential Pay Board report lends support to West Coast dock workers, who are seeking broad approval of a guideline-straining 25.9-per-cent pay raise.

The board holds formal hearings today on the raise, which exceeds any it has considered so far.

The board's staff report says the productivity of the dockers went up 30 per cent during the 1960s, saving shippers up to $1 billion.

"In summary, the staff concludes that there are sufficient grounds to consider an exception to the applicable wage and salary standard," the report says.

Without such a special exception, the longshoremen could get only a 9.2-per-cent in-

Wallace Favored in Florida Vote

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

AP Political Writer
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — More than two million Floridians vote today in a free-for-all presidential primary that could influence the national prospects of three likely Democratic losers more than those of the expected winner, Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

Sens. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Henry M. Jackson of Washington are fighting for second spot behind Wallace's antibusing bandwagon and for position in the multi-candidate scramble for the Democratic presidential nomination.

For Muskie, Florida could further cloud a front-runner image that suffered when he polled 46.4 per cent of the votes in winning last week's New Hampshire primary in his native New England. Humphrey and Jackson hope for strong showings to spur their drives to overtake him.

Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, the surprisingly strong runner-up to Muskie in New Hampshire, and Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York, a former Republican in his first race as a Democrat, are the other major contenders in the 11-candidate Democratic field.

Among the Republican, President Nixon is expected to be a runaway winner over conservative Rep. John Ashbrook of Ohio, who has campaigned in Florida the past week. Liberal Rep. Paul N. McCloskey of California dropped out of the race last week but is still on the ballot here.

Nixon is also expected to win all 40 delegates to the Republican National Convention.

The 81 Democratic Delegates may be split, with Wallace's rivals hoping to capture close to half of them in the congressional districts of the Tampa-St. Petersburg and Miami areas.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. EST to 7 p.m. More than two-thirds of the 2.1 million Democrats and nearly 800,000 Republicans are expected to ballot in the state's first major presidential primary.

A fast count is expected since voting machines are used in all 67 counties.

In addition to the presidential contests, Florida voters will de-

Mitchell Expected to Deny Any Role in the ITT Case

By TOM SEPPY

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell testified under oath today that he was not involved in the settlement of an antitrust case against the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. And, he said, he did not participate in the negotiations for next summer's Republican National Convention.

Mitchell, now head of President Nixon's re-election bid, addressed himself "to the three points which relate to my relationship or my nonrelationship to the subject matter" of the current hearing before the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The hearing sprang from charges by columnist Jack Anderson that Justice Department officials were guilty of improprieties in the handling of the ITT case. Anderson published a memo by an ITT lobbyist linking the ITT settlement with a purported ITT commitment of $400,000 to underwrite the GOP convention.

Mitchell previously had issued two statements which dealt with the three points.

The first point pertained to the litigation started by the Justice Department's Antitrust Division when he was attorney general, against ITT.

Mitchell said when the first of the three suits in the case reached the stage for consideration by the attorney general in

Dr. Dan Pilkinton Takes AEA Position

Dr. Dan L. Pilkinton of Little Rock has been named Associate Director for Administrative Services in the Arkansas State Department of Education. He was selected by the State Board of Education in its meeting Monday to fill the vacancy created in the high-level position by the death of Harvey Z. Snell.

Pilkinton, 49, is a native of Hempstead County. He is the son of the late Ivison L. Pilkinton and the late Louise Betts Pilkinton of Hope, and is the brother of Judge James H. Pilkinton of Hope.

Dr. Pilkinton is a graduate of the Washington High School, Henderson State College, and received his Master's degree from George Peabody College, Nashville, Tennessee, and earned his PhD degree from the University of Arkansas.

He is a former superintendent of schools at Altheimer, Lewisville, and Arkadelphia, Arkansas. At the present time he is executive director of the Arkansas School Board Association, and also taught in the University of Arkansas Graduate Center in Little Rock. He will assume his new duties with the State Department of Education around the middle of April.

Nixon Wants Action on Busing

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will send Congress a special written message calling for action at once on the busing of school children to achieve racial balance.

The action Nixon wants was not disclosed.

Press secretary Ronald Ziegler said Monday the President reached basic decisions on the issue during the weekend and may send the message to Congress this week but certainly within 10 days or so.

Nixon, the spokesman said, wants "action—and action now," on the busing subject but decided to take the time necessary to develop a written message rather than make a general statement "because of the perplexity of this problem."

So far as is known, Nixon personally consulted only one group of blacks on the issue—those he appointed to assess positions on busing held by members of his administration.

Ziegler said, however, that the Cabinet Committee on Education, which has been advising the President on the busing question, sounded out people with a wide range of views.

April 1969, "I disqualified myself on the grounds that my former law firm had done legal work for one of ITT's subsidiaries."

After that date, Mitchell said, all matters pertaining to the ITT suit rested in the hands of Richard G. Kleindienst, deputy attorney general, and Richard McLaren, assistant attorney general in charge of the Antitrust Division.

Irving Admits Hoax, Plans Another Book

NEW YORK (AP) — Sources close to author Clifford Irving say he is writing another book—this one about his publicly admitted role in the $750,000 Howard Hughes autobiography hoax.

Proceeds from the sale of the book would go toward repaying the duped publisher, McGraw-Hill, Inc., the $900,000 it is seeking in restitution for advances and expenses it paid, the sources said. Much of the total is reported to be intact.

Irving hopes to complete the new manuscript by June 15, the day before he, his wife Edith and researcher Richard Suskind are to be sentenced in the case, it was said.

The Irvings pleaded guilty to federal conspiracy charges Tuesday and were joined by Suskind to plead guilty in state Supreme Court to charges of grand larceny and conspiracy.

Irving, 41, and Edith, 36, each could face, between the federal and state charges, a maximum of 13 years in prison and $11,000 in fines. Suskind, 46, who was named a coconspirator but not a defendant in the federal indictment, could face up to eight years in prison and a $1,000 fine.

Main Street Discussed

Arkansas Highway Department engineer Brooks Nichols spoke to the Hope Rotary Club at a luncheon meeting Friday, March 10 at the Town and Country in a program arranged by Rotarian John Tallent. He discussed the South Main Street and the State Highway 29 South projects, which was interesting and informative.

The traffic on Main was studied before plans were drawn up, and there has been an attempt to save as many of the trees along the route as possible. Despite efforts along that line, 28 trees had to be cut down. The project should be completed this

School Voting

About 705 persons had voted at 1 p.m. Tuesday in the school election. This is considered about par and voting is expected to pick up after working hours. The polls close at 7:30 p.m.

The primary issue in today's election is a controversial eight mill school tax increase. Passage would allow District 1-A to float a $400,000 bond issue for two new school buildings, additions and other construction.

A proposed 10 mill increase last year was defeated by a vote of 1,261 to 772.

Polling places in the Hope School District are: Box 1-A of Ward One will vote at Hope Fire Station; Box 1-B, 1-C, Rocky Mound and Shover Springs will vote at James Motor Company;

Box 1-D and Box 6 will vote at Jones Field House; Box 2-A, 2-B and Guernsey will vote in the little courtroom on the first floor of the Courthouse; Ward 3, Box 5 and Cross Roads will vote at Hope City Hall; Box 4-A and 4-B at Hope Youth Center and Fulton residents will vote at the Fulton library.

AP Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The farm-to-dinner-plate trail drive for today's steer is an increasingly expensive trip in which less than half of the critter winds up on consumer tables at triple its original cost per pound.

Cattlemen are getting more money for beef and so are middlemen who slaughter, transport, slice, wrap and ring up steaks, roasts and hamburger on supermarket cash registers.

The result is higher beef prices for consumers, a record average of $1.11½ per pound on a composite, all-cut basis in January, says the Agriculture Department. On the hoof, beef cattle hit an all-time high of $32.60 per hundredweight in February.

The future for retail beef prices?

Hazy, according to government economists following last week's report by the Labor Department that the February wholesale-price index was up 0.9 per cent, the most in a year. Food products, mainly meat, led the pace.

Herbert Stein, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, said livestock prices recently have eased but indicated the retail price momentum will continue at least for a time. "We do not expect further sharp increases in meat prices at wholesale, although retail meat prices are likely to continue rising a little longer," Stein said.

Meat accounts for nearly a third of the average family's food dollar, and beef is by far the favorite, according to government analysts.

Who gets the consumer beef dollar?

Allen Baker, a marketing specialist for the department's Economic Research Service, provided a breakdown of beef costs using figures for the fourth quarter of 1971, which included part but not all of the recent uptrend in cattle and beef prices.

A 1,000-lb. choice-grade live steer is sold by a farmer or feedlot operator for $327.79, or about 33 cents per pound, not including transportation or any marketing charges involved.

The packing company, which bought the animal, slaughters the steer and converts it into so-called carcass weight. By this time the steer has been divested of hide, internal organs and other byproducts which are not classified as red meat.

At this point, the packing company has a beef carcass weighing only 620 pounds. The carcass is sold on the wholesale

Israel, Jordan Reach a Full Peace Agreement

BEIRUT (AP) — King Hussein has reached a full peace agreement with Israel, Baghdad Radio reported today.

Earlier, the royal palace in Amman announced Hussein would make a "statement of tremendous importance" Wednesday concerning the territory Israel seized from Jordan in the 1967 war.

The Iraqi broadcast said the agreement provides that the occupied territory on the West Bank of the Jordan River and the Gaza Strip which Egypt occupied before the war will become an autonomous Palestinian state federated with Jordan in a United Arab Kingdom under Hussein's Hashimite throne.

The old Arab quarter of Jerusalem or part of it is to be the capital of the new Palestinian state, Baghdad Radio said. But Israel's leaders have said repeatedly Jerusalem is now a united city under Israeli rule and will never be divided again.

A dispatch from Amman said details of a broad new plan aimed at breaking the deadlock between Jordan and Israel were handed to the ambassadors to the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and the Arab countries Monday.

The Jordanian government newspaper Al Dostour said the king would announce a "plan to consolidate national unity between the two banks of Jordan on a permanent basis of decentralization."

The use of the term decentralization indicated some form of autonomy for the Palestinian population on both sides of the Jordan River.

Baghdad Radio broadcast an Iraqi news agency dispatch from Amman which said the king hoped to get approval of his plan at a meeting this afternoon with members of Jordan's parliament.

The radio gave these highlights of the agreement:

—Proclamation of a new federal state under Hussein to be called the United Arab Kingdom.

—The kingdom is to be made up of two autonomous states, Palestine and Jordan, each of which will have its own government for internal affairs.

At this point, the packing company has a beef carcass weighing only 620 pounds. The carcass is sold on the wholesale market for $340.10, or about 55 cents per pound for the net remaining weight.

Meantime, the meat packer has sold the byproducts, including the hide, tongue, tripe and liver, weighing a total of 193 pounds, for $20.65. That amount is deducted by economists from the $327.79 paid the farmer to arrive at an adjusted "farm value" for the red meat of $307.14.

The carcass sold by the wholesaler for $340.10 to a supermarket chain, a large hotel or perhaps a small independent grocery store now must be transported, cut up, packaged and, in the case of hamburger, ground up for consumers.

3 Candidates Announce

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Three more Pulaski County legislators announced Monday they would seek re-election.

State Rep. B.D. "Doug" Brandon of Little Rock said he would run in the Democratic primary for nomination to a sixth term in the Arkansas House.

Brandon said he would file for Position 2 in District 4.

Rep. John B. Pledge of Little Rock said he would run for a second term. He also will run in District 4, which is a new district under the 1971 legislative reapportionment. He did not say which position he would seek.

Joel Y. Ledbetter of Little Rock announced he would run for a 13th term in the state House. He said he would seek Position 1 in District 4.

District 4 encompasses most of Little Rock east of University Avenue from the Arkansas River to Baseline Road. The legislative reapportionment placed five incumbents in the district.

BILL TOLLESON

School Board President Bill Tolleson brought an important message to the Hope B & PW Club concerning the condition of the Hope Schools, when the club met at the Diamond on Thursday, March 9. He compared today's situation with that of 35 years ago and showed very graphically how students, teachers and expenses have all increased.

What does the school board want? He answered his own question by stating simply, "The school board wants average financial support. . . and I mean 'average' by Arkansas standards. We need 8 more mills badly." He acknowledged that the subject of taxes is a touchy one, but he also pointed out that "we have a good school system and we need to keep it that way."

Daffodils and St. Patrick's Day decorations were seen on the tables where the meal was served to 34 members and four guests, the speaker, Mrs. Paul Morgan, Mrs. Paul Roberts, and Mrs. Tom Jackson. President Dee McMurrugh was in charge of the business meeting, when it was decided to sponsor a delegate to Girls State this summer. The Southwest District Conference to be held in Hope in the fall was also discussed. Those appointed on the nominating committee were Mary Andrews, Opal Daniel, and Sue Sparks.

Hostesses for the dinner meeting were Donna Smith, Tommie Byrd, Belle Mudgett, and Betty Jane Foster.

School Busing Primary Issue

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Ecology, the economy, crime in the streets and welfare all have been topics for the active candidates in today's Florida presidential primary. But for most Floridians, the primary issue is busing.

The question of busing children to achieve racial balance in schools has made Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace the leader in the Democratic race, and state legislative action that put a busing straw vote on the primary ballot is expected to bring out additional Wallace voters.

Busing has forced the major national candidates to take stands on the issue and forced them to tread cautiously so that a stand in Florida doesn't conflict with a stand in less conservative states where they face future primary contests. Of the seven Democrats actively campaigning in Florida, five favor school busing or say they can accept it as an unpleasant necessity.

Busing has caused Florida's young Democratic governor, Reubin Askew, to take an unpopular position as a crusader against the busing straw vote.

The busing referendum placed on the ballot has no standing in law. Sponsors said it merely will allow Floridians to tell the nation their opinion on racial busing.

The referendum reads: "Do you favor an amendment to the U.S. Constitution which would prohibit forced busing and guarantee the right of each student to attend the appropriate public school nearest his home?"

Askew's forces in the legislature failed to keep the referendum from being included on the ballot, but the governor did manage to tag on another referendum which reads: "Do you favor providing an equal opportunity for quality education for all children regardless of race, creed, color or place of residence and oppose a return to a dual system of public schools?"

A third question asks if voters favor a constitutional amendment to allow prayer in the public schools, but that issue seems to have been ignored by the voters.

Here are the positions on busing taken by the candidates campaigning in the Florida race:

—Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York, the only black candidate in the race, is in favor of busing.

—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota says he opposes massive busing solely for the purpose of achieving racial ratios, but he favors busing where necessary to provide equal education opportunities.

—Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington opposes busing and says he favors a constitutional amendment to outlaw it.

—New York Mayor John V. Lindsay favors school busing.

—Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota favors school busing, although he did vote for the busing compromise amendment in the Senate recently.

—Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine says school busing can be a useful tool for desegregation but that he does not like it.

—Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace opposes school busing and has based most of his campaign on this issue.

On the Republican side Rep. John M. Ashbrook of Ohio is the only campaigning GOP candidate, and he is an outspoken critic of busing.

President Nixon, the only other avowed Republican candidate, has not campaigned himself in Florida, but he has said he opposes busing and announced he will make a statement on the issue after the Florida primary.

Rain Seen for State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rain is expected to return to Arkansas by Wednesday.

The forecast of precipitation is based on a low pressure system developing over Oklahoma this morning and moving north-eastward. The precipitation probability is forecast at 40 per cent Wednesday in most areas of the state.

Despite the rain, mild temperatures are expected to continue.

Highs Monday ranged from 54 at Harrison to 75 at Little Rock. Highs today should be in the low 60s north to low 70s south with highs Wednesday in the mid 60s to mid 70s.

Lows tonight should be in the upper 40s northeast to near 60 southwest.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 40, Harrison 41, Texarkana 41, Pine Bluff 45, Jonesboro 51, El Dorado 49, Memphis 39, Little Rock 41 and Fort Smith 37.

Influence for Highway

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Richard Mays of El Dorado, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the 4th District, said Monday that political influence in Washington is needed to get a better road between Pine Bluff and Little Rock.

If elected, he said, he would attempt to obtain road improvements for the district. He said one avenue of improvement for U.S. 65, which connects Little Rock with Pine Bluff, might be seeking its inclusion in the interstate system. He said another might be a toll system or a combination toll and revenue bond financing plan.

Mays, an attorney, said he believed he was equipped to meet the needs of the people of the South Arkansas District, including road development, which he said was "tied hand and glove" to political influence.

Joins Conway Newspaper

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — John L. Ward, former director of public relations for Winthrop Rockefeller, has been named managing editor of the Conway Log Cabin Democrat.

Ward, 41, will succeed Joe B. McGee, who is remaining at the newspaper as a member of the editorial staff.

Ward will assume his new post March 27.

The newly named managing editor worked at the Log Cabin Democrat from 1947 to 1958, serving the last two years as a general assignments reporter.

He was editor of the newspaper's editorial feature page from 1962 to 1964.

He was director of public relations for Rockefeller from May 1964 until June 15, 1971, and directed Rockefeller's successful bid for re-election as governor in 1968.

Since he left the Rockefeller staff, Ward has been writing a book about Rockefeller's years as governor. The book is near completion.

McGee, who has served as managing editor since 1949, will have increased responsibility in the field of local news coverage.

PIPELINE DREAM—It's heavy going for this member of the survey team charting the route of a proposed trans-Alaska oil pipeline. The Alyeska Pipeline Service Company says it is spending some $5 million a month on the project, and has spent more than $300 million on it.

Arkla Wants Rate Hike

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An official of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. told the state Public Service Commission Monday that Arkla must have a rate increase for industrial customers to be able to build a pipeline to the Anadarko Basin in Texas and Oklahoma.

Edward N. Nelson of Shreveport, La., vice president of the company, said Arkla's certificate to build a pipeline to the basin was based on the rate increase the company has asked the commission to approve.

The Federal Power Commission granted the certificate Feb. 18 dependent on Arkla filing its plan to finance the $100 million project.

The basin is thought to be a source of natural gas. Arkla's own natural gas reserves, like those of many other gas companies, are dwindling.

Arkla has asked for a standard rate of 32 cents per million cubic feet of gas to the 48 large industrial customers in Arkansas. Henderson said the rate proposal would give Arkla the cash flow needed to meet the financing agreement.

Rev. James E. Sewell, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Hope, has announced his resignation effective April 1, 1972. Mr. Sewell told the governing board of the local church Monday evening that he has accepted a position with the Model Cities Program at Texarkana.

A spokesman for the local church said today that no effort would be made to fill the vacancy until after April 1st.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Carson's second annual special starring performers in what he described as "the Social Security bracket" came off in excellent style on NBC Monday night. If it was not quite as moving a little gem as the hour last season it was because there were so many guests and star turns that no one had time for more than a few minutes at stage center.

There was Eddie Foy Jr., at 68 dancing with the grace of a man half his age; Ethel Waters singing "Dinah" with the enthusiasm of a beginner; Gene Sheldon getting as many laughs for his comedy banjo act as he did in vaudeville days.

Bette Davis half sang and half talked a song from a Broadway musical in which she appeared almost two decades ago—a number whose music and lyrics were much inferior to her talents.

Hits of the show again were members of the chorus, all former show girls who danced with the enthusiasm of the June Taylor line but perhaps a little less agility. In a nice windup, a quintet of composers sang bits from some of their greatest hits. Shelton Brooks, at 85, sang his "Some of These Days;" Harry Ruby recalled Helen Kane's "I Wanna Be Loved by You," and Irving Caesar belted "Tea for Two," with grand opera gestures.

Carson made graceful introductions, then kept pretty much out of the way.

Earlier Bob Hope presented his final special of the season—his monologue was predictably full of Nixon-China jokes. Then followed several rough and tumble sketches satirizing motion pictures nominated for Academy Awards.

Helen and Sue Bottel The Generation Rap

SCHOOL GIRLS RATED 'X'

Dear Helen And Sue:
I noticed an ad in the amusement section of the paper about one of those raunchy blue movies (sex, sex, SEX!) rated "X." It said, "An intimate study of the hidden lives of our teenage girls—shocking, revealing, true!!!"

My friends and I (and I'll bet a lot of other teenagers) find this ad—and the movie no doubt—a personal insult to us. We are the girls they're talking about—implying that school girls are rotten, dirty, sex-crazy dogs.

Another thing that gets us upset is that we aren't even old enough to see the movie, yet we're supposedly the ones performing this filth. And a lot of adults judge us because of such films, books, etc.

I'm a junior in high school, very active in sports, clubs and school government. I don't do X-rated things, and neither do my friends; in fact, most of the girls I know are about like me, and not interested in changing.

We think "exposes" of high school vice are degrading to us. What do you think? —MARGARET

Dear Margaret:

From what I've read about those quickie, X-rated, blue movies, they're a bunch of dull, tasteless rubbish with a lot of sex scenes and no plot, and I wouldn't go to one, even if I could.

They're degrading to EVERYBODY, not just teenagers, but I don't think the kind of adults-who-count judge us by these films—because that kind of adult stays away from them, too. —SUE

Dear M.:

Score One for a straight-thinking school girl! Your point is well taken—if teenagers are banned from a movie which supposedly tells the truth about them, then there's either something wrong with the ratings or else tremendously false about the film.

I doubt that hard core (or should I say rotten core) blue movies will be around much longer. The plotless cheapies don't attract the young crowd who prefers more for its money than exaggerated sex, and most older people only attend once out of curiosity (unless they're repressed voyeurs). —HELEN Dear Rap:

My girl friend doesn't like the way I dress, eat, talk, wear my clothes, have my hair cut; you name it and she wants to change it.

At first, I went along with her because her family is better off than mine, and I figured she could teach me how to act. But she thinks I should be a carbon copy of the guys that sit around her pool. I don't have anything to say to them and probably never will. She hounds me about this and also about not being able to carry on a conversation with her parents. She's always criticizing.

I love this girl, but I'm beginning to realize I like the way I am, and my own folks are more real than hers, and my friends also. How do I tell her I'm not just a hunk of —MOLDING CLAY

Dear M.C.:

You may not know it yet, but I'll bet you're close to telling this girl "Good-bye!" Firm up that "common clay," and get on with it! —HELEN

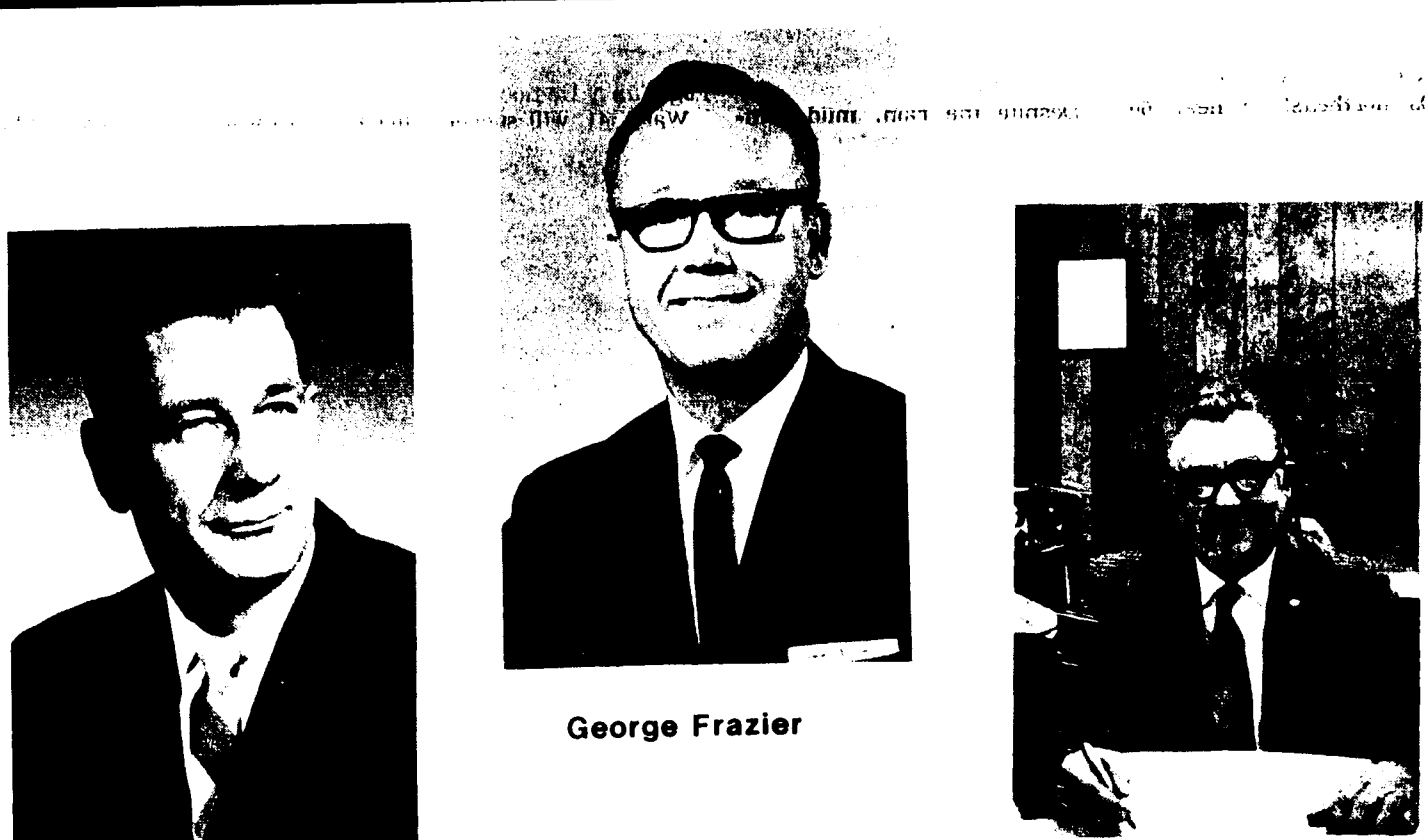

Dear M.:

Yeah! Why stay with a girl who only likes you when you're trying to be somebody else? Tell her you've got to be YOU — just before you say, "See you then" (meaning not often). —SUE

Ouachita Wins NAIA Game in an Overtime

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference champion Ouachita Baptist University scored a 90-89 first-round victory over Elizabeth City State in the NAIA basketball tournament here Monday.

Bill Hodges hit a layup with 1:12 remaining in an overtime period to lift the sixth-seeded Tigers to victory. His points produced a 90-88 lead, reduced in the remaining moments by a Vikings' free throw with 20 seconds left.

Ouachita will play St. Thomas of St. Paul, Minn., in a second-round game Wednesday morning.

The Tigers, who advanced to the tournament after winning the NAIA District 17 playoffs, built a 44-29 halftime lead on the work of Tommy Patterson, who finished with 28 points, Jim Hamilton, who had 24, and Hodges who wound up with 19.

In the second half, the North Carolina school put together a fast-break game that steadily cut away at the Tigers' lead, finally gaining an 80-80 tie with 2:28 left in regulation time on Charles Carr's shot. Ouachita went back ahead on Hamilton's two free throws, but Holland Moore stole an OBU pass and converted it into a layup that tied the game at 82-82 with 58 seconds left, pushing the contest into overtime.

The Vikings led most of the overtime period, but Patterson sank two long jump shots for Ouachita and Nelson Catalina sank two free throws with 2:32 left in overtime for an 88-88 tie.

The Tigers gained possession of the ball with 2:02 left when Bobby Stack rebounded a missed shot, and then went ahead on Hodge's layup.

Leonard Carmichael contributed 17 points to the Viking attack. Moore had 15.

Central Rated Best

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock Central, winner of the Class AAAA round-robin and the AAA-AAAA state tournament, is a unanimous choice for No. 1 in the final Associated Press high school basketball poll.

Central, which beat El Dorado in the finals of the AAA-AAAA tournament last week, has a 29-2 record.

Little Rock Parkview finished second in the balloting by a panel of sportswriters and sportscasters despite losing to Central in the semifinals of last week's tournament.

Stephens wound up third, followed by Magnolia, Subiaco, Desha Central, Camden Fairview, Menifee, Blytheville and Stamps.

Parkview, winner of the AAA-West title, has been second to Central in the poll for several weeks.

Stephens, the Class A champion, advanced from fifth. Blytheville, ranked third last week, lost to El Dorado in the Class AAA-AAAA tournament, and Subiaco, fourth last week, was upset in the Class AA tournament by Wilson Rivercrest.

Magnolia jumped into the No. 4 slot after beating Camden Fairview in the finals of the Class AA tournament.

Desha Central advanced one notch when Fayetteville, ranked sixth last week, was crushed by Little Rock Hall in the AAA-AAAA tournament.

Menifee, the Class B winner, remained eighth.

Blytheville, champion of AAA-East, dropped from third to ninth. Stamps, ranked ninth last week, finished in the No. 10 spot.

Hall, No. 10 last week, barely missed the top 10 after being upset by El Dorado.

Here are the results of The Associated Press high school basketball poll with first-place votes and team records in parentheses.

Oral Roberts Team Rated High

NEW YORK (AP) — Jacksonville and Maryland have the big guns, Virginia, Princeton, Oral Roberts and Syracuse the high scorers and most everyone else has a chance in the 35th National Invitation basketball tournament.

That was the majority opinion Monday to a drum-beating luncheon for the nation's oldest post-season tourney, which begins Friday at Madison Square Garden with one of its stronger fields in recent history.

"Compared to Maryland, we're pretty small," said St. Joseph's, Pa., Coach Jack McKinney. "But then again, so is most everyone else."

McKinney's team meets the Atlantic Coast Conference Terapins in one of Saturday afternoon's first-round double-headers. Davidson of the Southern Conference plays the first game of the twin bill against Syracuse, led by explosive Greg Kohls.

Virginia, paced by high-scoring Barry Parkhill, meets Lafayette in the tourney curtain-raiser Friday night. Fordham plays the second game against Jacksonville, led by 7-foot center David Brent.

In a Saturday night double-header, John Guqua, the second leading scorer in the country, leads Oral Roberts against Memphis State and Missouri plays St. John's, N.Y.

Princeton, powered by sharp-shooting Brian Taylor, plays Indiana and Niagara meets Texas-El Paso in a Sunday doubleheader that closes out the first round.

Although Maryland was generally conceded in the early line as the team to beat, there is no odds-on favorite in this well-balanced tourney.

"This is the best field in my memory," says Ben Carnevale, who's on the NIT selection committee.

UCLA Finishes on Top as Expected

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer

UCLA finished a perfect season on the court with a perfect season at the college basketball polls today.

The pre-season choice as the nation's No. 1 team, the Bruins led from start to finish and wound up as America's top-ranked club in The Associated Press final poll of 1972.

It was a Bruin Blitz.

A nationwide panel of sports writers and sports broadcasters gave UCLA all 30 first-place votes for 600 points as the Bruins wound up the regular season with a 26-0 record.

Far behind the defending national champions in the No. 2 spot is North Carolina, winner of the Atlantic Coast Conference playoffs. The Tar Heels, 23-4, who were No. 3 last week, got 483 points.

Penn., 24-2, despite an NCAA tournament victory Saturday over Providence, dropped one spot to No. 3. The Quakers collected 468 points and finished ahead of Louisville's Missouri Valley Conference champions.

The Cardinals 23-3, who beat Memphis State in the MVC playoffs over the weekend, remained in fourth position. The voters gave the Birds 398.

Long Beach was No. 5 with 330 after beating Brigham Young, Saturday.

South Carolina and Marquette stayed 6-7 after tournament victories. The Gamecocks whipped Temple and Marquette crushed Ohio.

Southwestern Louisiana moved up a spot to No. 8 after beating Marshall; Brigham Young dropped a place to No. 9 and Florida State leaped four places to No. 10 after stopping Eastern Kentucky.

Minnesota, the Big Ten champion, closed out the season with a victory over Purdue, and moved up five notches to No. 11. Marshall finished No. 12, dropping two places, and Memphis State fell two spots and finished No. 13.

Bruised Marquette Gets a New Chance

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Marquette's basketball team, its once brilliant season first bruised and then nearly crushed to death by the tentacles of the pro leagues' bidding war, has been given a second chance in its quest for the national collegiate title.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association reinstated the seventh-ranked Warriors to tournament play Monday night after Capt. Bob Lackey signed an affidavit stating he had not engaged the services of an agent to represent him in bargaining with the pros.

The NCAA had asked Lackey to sign the disclaimer before Saturday's Midwest subregional game at Knoxville, Tenn. Lackey was willing to sign, but decided against it when Coach Al McGuire suggested he first obtain legal counsel.

Lackey scored 20 points Saturday as the Warriors crushed Ohio University 73-49 in easily their best showing since star center Jim Chones left the team to turn pro. The NCAA announced Sunday it was suspending Marquette from tournament play, but left open an avenue of appeal which Marquette used successfully.

McGuire said he thought reinstatement meant the NCAA and its eligibility committee "realized we weren't trying to hide anything. Now it's just on to the next crisis for us, I guess."

McGuire didn't know it at the time, but the Warriors' first crisis was spawned when Jim McDaniels jumped the American Basketball Association last month and signed with Seattle of the rival National Basketball Association.

The ABA, stung, eyed Chones, a 6-foot-11 junior whose widowed mother works in a Racine, Wis., restaurant to support her family. When the New York Nets offered an estimated $1.5 million in cash and told Chones to sign now or it would rescind the offer, Chones signed.

The Lackey incident came on the heels of Charlie Scott, the ABA's leading scorer, quitting the Virginia Squires.

Lackey was asked to sign the affidavit in a show of determination by the NCAA to avoid another Howard Porter case.

Porter led Villanova to second place in the NCAA tournament last year, but the school had to forfeit $76,000 in receipts when it was found he had signed a pro contract months earlier.

Lackey signed a statement affirming his eligibility at a meeting Monday involving Marquette officials and Warren Brown, an assistant executive director of the NCAA. Marquette's reinstatement was announced three hours later.

"I'm happy for Bob Lackey especially and I'm happy for my other ball players because they'll have a chance to prove their ability," McGuire said.

Coach Jim Snyder, whose Ohio U. team would have played Kentucky in the Midwest regional semifinals at Dayton, Ohio, Thursday night had Marquette not been reinstated, said he was "glad it's over."

"I wasn't necessarily disappointed when I heard," Snyder said. "It would have been nice to have another shot and go out a little better than we did. But I'm sure the better team is there."

Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp, whose Wildcats have lost two of their last three games with Marquette—all in tournament play—said reinstatement of Marquette was "fine with me."

Prospects of Any Business Deals With Peking Slim

By MILES A. SMITH
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Present prospects of American businessmen closing deals over a friendly cup of tea in Peking are slim.

And even if the Americans get to Peking, they might find there was no sugar in the tea—or in the business deal.

Since President Nixon's trip to the People's Republic, businessmen all over the United States have been weighing their chances of opening trade with the Chinese mainland.

There are no immediate signs of a quick development of that trade if previous experiences by American businessmen are any example.

In Los Angeles, for instance, an export consultant has been waiting eight weeks for an answer to his application to attend a Chinese trade fair.

The head of a chemical company in Seattle says, "We've been working on this since last July, but the Chinese do not want to deal with the United States."

Such frustrations have made export-import specialists wary, and here are some of the reasons:

—The People's Republic of China clings to a long-cherished policy of self-sufficiency. It is reluctant to become dependent on any outside power and does not want to buy more than it can sell in the world market. It wants to keep an over-all balance of trade.

—What mainland China can offer American traders is not very enticing because the country's economy is basically agricultural.

—China's imports include few consumer goods, except grain, and grain imports have been going down.

—America will have to compete with Japan and the European countries, and Japan in particular has some built-in advantages such as geographical location and low labor costs.

—Thus far Red China has refused to deal directly with the United States for any products at all. What little they do buy and sell has to go through a third country, or even a fourth.

Pittsburgh Pastor To Keynote Meet At Bethel AME Church

The Rt. Reverend D. Ward Nichols, presiding bishop of the Twelfth Episcopal District of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, comprising Arkansas and Oklahoma, and the Chancellor of Shorter College, North Little Rock, in cooperation with the leaders of the various facets of the district, has planned a very colorful and attractive celebration of the 86th Founders Day of Shorter College. In recent years the pattern of attendance has been overflowing crowds; notwithstanding, there has not been sunshiny weather at all times, but they have come through the rain and snow from all sections of Oklahoma and Arkansas to see and greet their leader, transact business for their church and school, and to fellowship one with the other.

This year, an overwhelming crowd is expected for many reasons. One is that this will be the last Founders' Celebration this side of the General Conference. Shorter College, which is making rapid progress under its acting President, Oley L. Griffin, is of great concern.

The Founders observance got under way Sunday, March 12. The schedule follows: Sunday, March 12, "College of Your Choice Tea," 3-5 p.m. Shorter College Multi-purpose Room. Monday, March 13-12 noon, "A Symposium" by students, Multi-purpose Room; "Crowning of Miss Founder's Day and Mr. Founder's Day; 7:30 p.m. Recognition of the Fine Arts." Tuesday, March 14, "Librarian in Charge," 12 noon; 8:00 p.m. "Banquet" Special feature—Outstanding Alumni, Personalities of past and present achievement—Dining Hall.

Wednesday, March 15, at 10:30 a.m. at Bethel A.M.E. Church, 16th and State Streets in Little Rock, where Dr. Rufus King Young is host pastor and Dr. W. B. Banks is host Presiding Elder.

Dr. J. G. Harris, one of the truly great preachers of our time, has been selected to bring the Keynote Sermon. Dr. Harris is the Pastor of St. James A.M.E. Church in Pittsburgh, Pa., and a well-known candidate for the Bishopric in 1972. Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Kay Bailey Nichols, Episcopal Supervisor, will meet with the Missionary Ladies. She will be assisted by Mrs. Rogenia Alexander, Episcopal President. Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, a Musical Program with choirs from the Little Rock, Pine Bluff, and Hot Springs areas furnishing the music. Thursday morning, the Presiding Elders will make their DALLAS (AP) — The money problems troubling many retired Americans are more acute for Mexican-Americans, Cubans and Puerto Ricans in this country, says Dr. Noheми C. Labrada, member of the President's Cabinet Committee on Opportunities for Spanish Speaking People.

Most do not have the money for nursing homes for the old, but have to rely on their families, she said.

Interviewed here Sunday, Dr. Labrada said the Spanish-surnamed often suffer shoddy housing and a lack of information about federal programs that could help them.

Bombers Pave Way for S. Vietnamese

By RICHARD PYLÉ
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese army sent 2,000 more troops into eastern Cambodia today to join a five-day old offensive that thus far has encountered little resistance.

Meanwhile, the Saigon government said its forces in South Vietnam killed 132 North Vietnamese.

These were the heaviest enemy casualties reported in recent weeks. The government said 12 South Vietnamese were killed.

Military authorities said the new thrust into Cambodia established a 35-mile front along which some 7,000 South Vietnamese troops were driving into suspected Communist supply and base areas.

"We are saturating the area," a senior Vietnamese officer said at Tay Ninh, the command post for the operation. "It is our purpose to destroy everything we can."

U.S. B52 bombers have been hammering the enemy's known or suspected locations, including the huge Chup and Mimot rubber plantations which are longtime headquarters for North Vietnamese divisions.

After two B52 strikes today, the task force was advancing to the northwest toward Peam Cheang, a smaller rubber plantation just south of Chup. But sources in the field indicated it was doubtful that this drive would go into Chup, which is Indochina's largest plantation. South Vietnamese forces have failed several times in the past to push the North Vietnamese 9th Division out of the 75 square miles of plantation.

The Communist command has an estimated 19,000 North Vietnamese combat troops in the Cambodian border region, military authorities said. Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Minh, commander of South Vietnam's 3rd Military Region, has 40,000 troops prepared to take part in the drive, should major fighting develop, but only 7,000 have been sent across the frontier thus far.

Nudists Hope to Get More in Pink

By LEE BYRD
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's organized nudists hope to get more in the pink by going public this year.

They're opening their parks to almost anyone with an interested eye and the cost of admission. You don't even have to take your clothes off unless you've got the stomach for it.

It may sound like a ripoff, or maybe a put-on. But the American Sunbathing Association, representing some 130 nudist clubs with 20,000 members across the nation, couldn't be more serious.

"I'm quite proud," says President Robert G. Johnston. "We've decided to come out of the woodwork and operate competitive recreational facilities rather than cults or philosophical retreats.... We're inviting the public to come visit us just as they might visit Disney World."

Not that ASA figures to out-strip Disney's cartoon characters as a vacation attraction. But the new open-door policy announced Monday "is a goal we've been building toward for several years—made possible by the public's increased acceptance of nudity," said Johnston.

Johnston said all ASA clubs, 90 per cent of the nudist organizations in the United States, have agreed to the plan. "But probably only three-fourths of them will be as cordial at first as I'd like them to be."

Visitors will be charged about $5 per family at most facilities, he said, with no reductions for single men and women.

And Jack Jackson, ASA advertising director, cautions that "The guys who just walk up and say 'I wanna look at naked ladies' are going to be frowned upon....

"Still," he said, "I don't think we need the careful screening we've relied on in the past. The Holiday Inn doesn't screen guests, so why should we. But we do invite the men to bring their girlfriends."

Johnston, a personnel officer for a large firm in Los Angeles, predicts the new policy—coupled with a new advertising campaign and publication of a guidebook complete with maps—will spur growth by 25 per cent this year. And that, so to speak, would be quite a take off.

"Dare to go Bare," begins one ad scheduled to run next month in a national women's magazine. "Nudists aren't nuts—they're simply a slice of humanity who have learned that 'naked' is the world's greatest common denominator."

Final Rites for Texas Publisher

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — Houston Harte, who built a publishing empire over his 50 years in San Angelo, will be buried here Wednesday at 2 p.m.

Harte, publisher of the San Angelo Standard-Times, died around noon Monday. He was 79.

Following services at the First Presbyterian Church, he will be buried in Fairmount Cemetery.

Harte came to Texas 52 years ago from Missouri and parlayed his organization from one small newspaper of 2,300 circulation into Harte-Hanks Newspapers Inc. with 19 papers in six states with a total circulation of more than 600,000.

The chain also owns a television station in San Antonio.

Born Jan. 12, 1893, at Knob Noster, Mo., Harte attended the town's schools before enrolling at the University of Missouri, where he graduated from the school of journalism in 1915. While at the university he formed friendships with a number of men who later became important figures in the newspaper field.

While still in college, Harte used a legacy to buy the Knob Noster Gem in 1914, the first step in his career.

The next January he expanded, buying the Central Missouri Republican, a weekly published in the county seat of Boonville. His partner there was Donald Ferguson, editor and president of the Milwaukee Journal.

In 1917, Harte heard of a newspaper for sale in Texas, the San Angelo Standard, and he contacted the owner, J. G. Murphy.

Their correspondence was cut short when Harte enlisted in the Army and served until 1918. After his discharge he sold out in Boonville and traveled to Texas where he purchased the Standard with $10,000 cash and $23,000 in notes.

He was married to Caroline Isabel McCutcheon March 26, 1921 and the couple returned to San Angelo and took up residence in the St. Angelus Hotel.

On his 29th birthday in 1922, Harte took the first move toward expanding beyond San Angelo. He bought both the Sweetwater Daily Reporter and the Sweetwater Weekly Reporter, plus the Roby Star Record, another weekly paper.

In 1921 he met and established a friendship with Bernard Hanks, owner of the Abilene Reporter-News. The two joined to form Harte-Hanks Newspapers. They maintained their friendship until Hanks' death in 1948.

Their first joint venture had been the purchase of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal in partnership with Charles A. Guy, still that paper's editor and publisher; Dorrance Roderick, El Paso Times publisher and J. Lindsey Nunn of Lexington, Ky., a Panhandle newspaper.

Harte and Hanks sold their interest in the Lubbock paper in 1928. They applied the proceeds on the purchase of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times. It was an important acquisition. The Caller and the Times were then separate papers.

In 1917, Harte heard of a newspaper for sale in Texas, the San Angelo Standard, and

How to Help Dead Party

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Do you want to play a new game? It will help chuckle up a dull party.

It's called the cliché game. All you need is a knowledge of trite and hackneyed English words and phrases—since practically all of us have, which they seem to make up a major portion of our daily language.

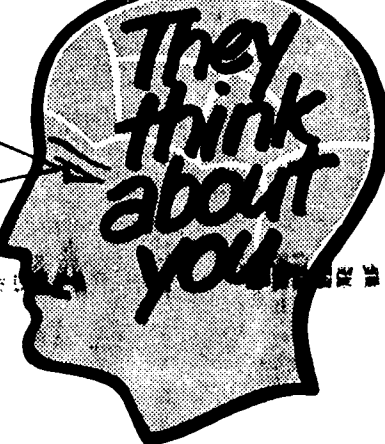

The game is easy and almost any number can play. First, you fill a pitcher with Martinis or molasses and pour a drink into every player's cup. The game usually goes faster if you use Martinis rather than molasses.

Everybody now stretches out on the floor. Then one player asks a question, a question which any other player must answer by turning it into a recognizable cliché.
